

Your Information &, how we interact with it.

This privacy policy covers the things you need to know about how we work with data.

About Us:

This site is owned and managed by Mi6 Marketing, an independent online marketing affiliate. The purpose of this website is to provide visitors with information about different types of home improvements, and to offer a simplified method to get quotations for the cost of those home improvements.

You should also view in conjunction with our Terms & Conditions.

What information we collect.

Whilst our company doesn't collect any of your information, if you use our services via this website to request comparison quotations then your information will go straight to a third party company. This information is the very least that is necessary for you to carry out that task.

The only personal information we ask for is:

1. Your name.
2. Your telephone contact number.
3. An email address.
4. Your Address & Post Code.
5. What type of product quote you are interested in.

The quote request form will also collect your current IP address (at the time you sent the form) and the time and date that you sent that form.

An IP address is a number that's automatically assigned to your device (computer) when you are online. Web servers automatically identify your computer by its IP address. The currently assigned IP address can disclose the location of your device.

Complaints Procedure

In the unlikely event that you are not completely satisfied with our service, please tell us by contacting our customer service team by emailing – info@mi6marketing.co.uk

We aim to resolve all complaints as quickly as possible and aim to reply within 7 days with a resolution.

Persons under the age of 18

If you are under the age of 18, do not send any personal data.. We do not knowingly share the Personal Data of children or minors.

Non Personally Identifying data.

Data which does not carry any personally identifying details (such as your IP address) can also be collected when you visit our website by things known as cookies – there is more about cookies further on in this privacy policy.

- been provided to you, we may want to get in touch again to ascertain how you rated our services and that of the installers who quoted. This will help us to understand our customer service levels as we work towards continually improving them.

How we process your personal data

Once you submit your details using our website online quote request form, you will be contacted by a third party company to “double check” your requirements.

The current affiliate companies are listed in this privacy policy below – along with links to their privacy policies.

They will provide at up to 4 quotations for those who enquire. What this means to you is that you should be prepared for up to 4 calls from home improvement companies to discuss your quotes (plus the initial verification phone call).

The home improvement companies will likely want to visit your home (or the property in question) to carry out a survey in order to draw up the quotation.

If you don't want to be contacted by phone, or have a home visit, you should specify this on the contact form and we will comply with your wishes.

What are your rights

You have a number of rights within the GDPR with regard to your personal information. The following are those which apply to the personal data that we collect:

- INFORMATION: You have the right to be informed. In this case it means you are entitled to know what happens to your personal information.
- ACCESS: You have the right to know what personal information we hold about you. If you wish to know this information, use the contact form on this page and we will provide it to you within a reasonable amount of time. There are no charges for this service.
- RECTIFICATION: In the event that any information we have about you is incomplete or incorrect, you have the right to have it corrected or completed (rectified).
- ERASURE: You have the right to have your data erased. If you request us to delete your data, we will comply and fully delete any personal information we hold about you without any undue delay. This right can sometimes be known as “the right to be forgotten”.
- PROCESSING: Rather than requesting us to delete your information, you have the right to ask us to restrict (cease & desist) the processing of your data.
- OBJECTION: You have the right to object. This means that you can raise an objection to our processing of your personal information if you don't think it is in your best interests. Should you raise an objection, we will immediately cease & desist processing your information.
- PORTABILITY: You have the right to portability, which means in the event you make a request under the GDPR for your personal data that we hold, then we will provide it to you in a commonly used, machine readable form (typically, that would mean we are replying via a letter or e-mail).
- BREACH NOTIFICATION: – if in the unlikely event there occurs a breach of security which is likely to result in a high risk to your rights as a data subject, we must inform you without undue delay.
- COMPLAINT: You have the right to lodge any complaint with a supervisory or regulatory authority if you so desire.

For any of the above rights, if you would like to get in touch with us, please use the contact form on this page or via the other contact details below.
